STATEMENT FROM U.S. SECRETARY OF VETERANS AFFAIRS ON AGENT ORANGE PRESUMPTIVES

This week U.S. Secretary of Veterans Affairs Dr. David J. Shulkin announced that he is considering possible new presumptive conditions that may qualify for disability compensation related to Agent Orange exposure.

“After thoroughly reviewing the National Academy of Medicine (NAM)’s latest report regarding veterans and Agent Orange, and associated data and recommendations from the NAM Task Force, I have made a decision to further explore new presumptive conditions for service connection that may ultimately qualify for disability compensation,” Secretary Shulkin said. “I appreciate NAM’s work and the commitment and expertise of the VA’s NAM Task Force, and look forward to working with the Administration on the next steps in the process.”

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs will now begin work with the Administration to concurrently conduct a legal and regulatory review of these potential presumptive conditions for awarding disability compensation to eligible veterans.
VIETNAM 50TH COMMEMORATIVE BOOK

As you know, RMS Productions collaborated with us in distributing Korea Reborn and The Liberation of Kuwait as a gift to our South Dakota veterans. These publications were funded by Korea and Kuwait respectively.

RMS Productions has now developed a Vietnam War 50th commemorative book entitled, ‘A time to Honor’.

Each state is afforded the opportunity to localize the foreword section of it (Pages 12-20).

We are still in search of funding sources that we could utilize to buy the South Dakota version for our Vietnam Veterans. However, you can view an on-line version of the book on our website: http://vetaffairs.sd.gov.

2019 CORN PALACE MURALS TO HONOR THE MILITARY

Mitchell city officials this week announced the 2019 Corn Palace murals theme as “A Salute to the Military.” The Corn Palace’s outdoor walls will feature a military theme for the first time since 1916.

The 2019 murals will be the first designed by DWU students in the university’s digital media and design department.

Two session opportunities are offered. This is a very important event for those who were exposed and for their family members.
Today, the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced that it will launch the Rapid Appeals Modernization Program, or “RAMP,” with the goal of providing veterans with the earliest possible resolution of their disagreement with the VA’s decision on their benefit claims.

RAMP will provide expanded opportunities for veterans to enter the new, more efficient claims review process outlined in the Veterans Appeals Improvement and Modernization Act of 2017, which was signed into law by President Donald J. Trump on Aug. 23.

“At its core, the VA’s mission is to provide veterans with the highest quality of service,” said VA Secretary Dr. David J. Shulkin. “The new process under the RAMP initiative reflects major steps in not only the VA’s effort of continuous improvement, but also in providing greater choice for veterans and their families.”

The VA began its 18-month implementation of the new process immediately after the bill became law.

By February 2019, all requests for review of the VA decisions will be processed under the new, multi-lane process. The VA’s legacy appeals process was slow and complex. The new law streamlines the process and includes safeguards ensuring claimants receive the earliest effective date possible for their claims.

Participation in RAMP is voluntary; however, veterans can expect to receive a review of the VA’s initial decision on their claim faster in RAMP than in the legacy appeals process. The initiative allows participants to have their decisions reviewed in the Higher-Level or Supplemental Claim review lanes outlined in the law.

The reviewer can overturn previous decisions based on a difference of opinion, or return it for correction. Participants who select the Supplemental Claim Lane may submit new evidence and may receive the VA’s assistance in developing evidence in support of their claim.

Veterans who disagree with the decisions they receive in RAMP can appeal to the Board of Veterans’ Appeals in the new process and have their appeal decided by the Board when the new law becomes effective in February 2019. Veterans who participate in RAMP will not be able to return to the legacy appeals process.

The VA encourages eligible veterans with pending appeals to participate in RAMP and the benefits of the new review process. The VA will begin sending eligible veterans an invitation to participate in early November and continue the program until February 2019.

The VA will continue working with Congress, Veterans Service Organizations and other veteran advocates to implement the new appeals process over the next several months as the VA continues to make bold, positive change on behalf of veterans, their families and survivors.
